This research is funded by a 3-year doctoral contract with the French Ministry of Higher Education.

I have not received any kind of support from an interested party.

The data used in the study were made available by the Bank for International Settlements (BIS) through the Danish central bank, Nationalbanken, under the restriction that we did not report raw numbers on bank deposits for individual countries. The paper was approved by BIS prior to submission, solely in order to confirm that we did indeed honor this restriction.

IRB approval: N/A

Yours sincerely,
