

Disclosure statement RE: An Analysis of Economic Warfare

- 1) I have no financial interests linked to either this paper's conclusions or its underlying analysis.
- 2) In previous years I have received funding from the Department of Homeland Security, the Rumsfeld Foundation, the Institute for Humane Studies, and the Taubman Center for State and Local Government at Harvard University. In all cases this funding came in the form of general graduate student support and was not linked to the execution of any particular research projects.
- 3) I have no positions (paid or unpaid) with organizations outside of the University of California at San Diego.
- 4) I have no relatives or partners with interests in the findings of this paper.
- 5) No outside parties have the right to review the contents of this paper prior to submission or publication.

-Jeffrey Clemens