

Disclosure statement of Serena Ng:

Facts and Challenges from the Great Recession for Forecasting and Macroeconomic Modeling

My research is supported by the NSF under grant SES-0962431. I did not receive other financial support. I am a professor at Columbia University and did not hold other paid or unpaid positions in any profit or non-profit organizations. There is no conflict of interest and no other party has the right to our paper.