

“From Divergence to Convergence: Re-evaluating the History Behind China’s Economic Boom,” to appear in the Journal of Economic Literature for March 2014.

No “interested parties” provided financial support or conducted pre-publication reviews of this paper. Neither the authors nor any of their close relatives serve as officers, directors or board members of any “relevant” organization. The authors received research support from the following sources:

Loren Brandt: Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council, Canada

Debin Ma: Global Price and Income Project funded by National Science Foundation in USA.

Thomas G. Rawski: Kenneth P. Dietrich School of Arts & Sciences and the University Center for International Studies, both at the University of Pittsburgh.