

Over the past three years Facundo Alvaredo has received financial support from the University of Oxford, the Paris School of Economics, Conicet, the European Commission, the ESRC-DFID joint scheme, the Center for Equitable Growth at the University of California-Berkeley, and the Institute for New Economic Thinking.