

Notes

2005 Nominating Committee of AEA. In accordance with Article IV, Section 2 of the Bylaws of the American Economic Association, President-elect Daniel McFadden has appointed a Nominating Committee for 2005 consisting of Robert Lucas, chair, Marianne Baxter, Donald Brown, Angus Deaton, Edward Glaeser, Paul Jaskow, Rosa Matzkin and Janet Yellen.

Attention of members is called to the part of the bylaw reading, "In addition to appointees chosen by the President-elect, the Committee shall include any other member of the Association nominated by petition including signatures and addresses of not less than two percent of the members of the Association, delivered to the Secretary before December 1. No member of the Association may validly petition for more than one nominee for the Committee. The names of the Committee shall be announced to the Membership immediately following its appointment and the membership invited to suggest nominees for various offices to the Committee.

Nominations for AEA Officers: 2005. The slate of nominees for Association officers is available on the AEA Web Page, (<http://www.vanderbilt.edu/AEA>). If you do not have Internet access, you may request this information by e-mail at (aeainfo@vanderbilt.edu), by fax (615-343-7590) or by mail (American Economic Association, 2014 Broadway, Suite 305, Nashville, TN 37203).

Call for abstracts. The Committee on the Status of Women in the Economics Profession (CSWEP) of the American Economic Association will sponsor sessions at the January 2006 American Economic Association meetings in Boston. We will be organizing three sessions on gender-related topics and three sessions on non-gender-related topics. For the gender-related sessions, we are particularly interested in receiving proposals on the under-representation of women in undergraduate economics majors, on the gender implications of increasing global economic integration, and on gender and immigration. However, anyone doing research with gender implications is encouraged to submit an abstract. The three sessions on nongender-related topics will focus on industrial organization. Abstracts are particularly encouraged in the areas of regulation, deregulation and the performance of sectors with significant governmental involvement. Send a cover letter (specifying to which set of sessions the paper is being submitted) and three copies of a one- to two-page abstract (250–1000 words), clearly labeled with the paper title, authors' names and contact information for all the authors, by January 11, 2005, to Francine Blau, CSWEP Chair. We strongly encourage e-mail submissions to (CSWEP@cornell.edu). Hard copy submissions may be sent to Francine Blau, CSWEP Chair, School of Industrial and Labor Relations, 265 Ives Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853-3901 (please note on envelope "CSWEP Abstract").

The Sixth Annual Economics and the Classroom Conference will be held September 16–18, 2004, at Jackson Lake Lodge, Grand Teton National Park, Wyoming. Idaho State University, Aplia, Inc., Pearson Addison Wesley and Worth Publishing are sponsoring this event. Scheduled keynote speakers are Paul Krugman and Michael Parkin. Conference information can be obtained from Tesa Stegner, Chair, Department of Economics, Idaho State University; tel.: (208) 282-2346; e-mail: (stegtesa@isu.edu); URL: (<http://www.isu.edu/departments/econ>).

Call for papers. The Kentucky Economic Association recently changed the name of its journal to the Journal of Applied Economics and Policy from the Kentucky Journal of Economics and Business. The Journal will now be an electronic journal that will publish manuscripts from all JEL classifications. All manuscripts will be reviewed by at least two referees. Authors should send three copies of their manuscript and a check for $20 to Thomas G. Watkins, Editor, Journal of Applied Economics and Policy, Department of Economics, Eastern Kentucky University, 521 Lancaster Ave., Richmond, KY 40475.

Call for papers. The 69th Annual Meeting of the Midwest Economics Association will be held March 11–13, 2005, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The MEA invites papers and organized sessions in all areas of economics. To submit a paper, send two copies of a one-page abstract indicating appropriate JEL classification along with the appropriate submission fee to Professor Greg Duncan, President, Midwest Economics Association, PO Box 467, Cameron, MO 64429. Submissions may also be faxed to 816-632-7820 or sent electronically to <MEA@grinnell.edu>. If you would like to submit an organized session, please contact Professor Duncan by September 9, 2004. See the MEA website at (<<http://web.grinnell.edu/MEA/>>) for additional guidelines. Deadline for abstract submissions is October 3, 2004. Submission fee for MEA members is $15 per paper. Membership dues are $10 for the 2004–2005 year and may be paid with the paper fee. If you decline to join the MEA at this time, the submission fee is $30 per paper.

Call for papers. Economic Development and Cultural Change, now under the editorial leadership of John Strauss, Professor of Economics at Michigan State University, invites new submissions. EDCC is a venue to explore what economic and other social sciences reveal about a policy issue. Articles with new insights as well as carefully executed replications that explore robustness of results to different data, different model specifications, or ways of estimation will be entertained. Papers that focus on data quality—for instance, carefully comparing the results of different ways of collecting the same data or comparing the impacts of different definition—will also be considered. For more information visit EDCC online: (<<http://www.journals.uchicago.edu/EDCC>>).

Call for abstracts, papers and participants. The 2005 Academy of Economics and Finance

Meetings will be held February 9–12, 2005, in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. You may participate as a panel organizer, presenter, chair, moderator, discussant or observer. The deadline for submissions is November 1, 2004. All accepted paper may submitted for inclusion in the proceedings. For more information, please contact Graham Mitenko, Program Chair, University of Nebraska, Omaha, 402-554-2532; or e-mail (<Gmitenko@unomaha.edu>) or AEF at (<www.economics-finance.org>).

Submissions are invited for a special issue of Advances in Financial Economics (Volume 10) on corporate governance broadly defined as the system of controls that helps corporations and other organizations effectively manage, administer and direct economic resources. The deadline is September 1, 2004. Contact Anil Makhija, Ohio State University, 700 E. Fisher Hall, 2100 Neil Avenue, Fisher College of Business, Columbus, OH 43210; e-mail: (<makhija\_1@osu.edu>); tel.: (614) 292-1899; or Mark Hirschey, University of Kansas, 1300 Sunnyside Avenue, School of Business, Lawrence, KS 66045; e-mail: (<mhirschey@ku.edu>); tel: (785) 864-7563.

Call for papers. The Indian Journal of Economics and Business is an international journal that aims at dissemination and advancement of research in all areas of economics and business. The journal welcomes submissions in all areas related to economics and business fields. Each manuscript must include a 200-word abstract. Refer to the “Guidelines for Manuscript Submission” on the website. Submit submission fee, three copies and a diskette to Prof. Kirshore G. Kulkarni, Editor, Indian Journal of Economics and Business, Campus Box 77, PO Box 173362, Metropolitan State College of Denver, Denver, CO 80217-3362; tel.: (303) 556-2675; fax: (303) 556-3966; e-mail: (<kulkarmk@mscd.edu>); URL: (<www.ijeb.com>).

The Global Business & Economics Review (GBER) is an international refereed journal, published semiannually (June and December) by the Business & Economics Society International, for the presentation, discussion and analysis of advanced concepts, initial treatments and fundamental research in all fields of Business and Economics. Priority is given to insightful policy oriented articles that deal with the implications of the increasingly global business activity, especially written for the educated layperson.

The GBER welcomes contributions from academicians, corporate executives, staff members of research institutions, international organizations and government officials. Interested authors should submit four copies of original manuscripts in English, with authorship identified on a removable cover page, accompanied by a submission fee of $30 payable to B&ESI. Manuscripts and editorial correspondence should be directed to Editor, GBER, 64 Holden Street, Worcester, MA 01605-3109, USA.

The American Academy of Political and Social Science (AAPSS) recognized its new group of Fellows for 2004. Among the group of nine Fellows are economists Nancy Folbre, University of Massachusetts, and Alan B. Krueger, Princeton University. The academy designates a group of Fellows each year in order to recognize and honor individual social scientists for their distinguished scholarship in the social sciences, sustained efforts to communicate that scholarship to audiences beyond their own discipline, and professional activities that promise to continue to promote the progress of the social sciences. AAPSS also designated 27 Graduate Fellows in this first year of the program as well as 157 Junior Fellows of the Academy for a second year. For further information, contact Robert W. Pearson, AAPSS Executive Director; tel.: (215) 746-6500; e-mail: (rwpearso@sas.upenn.edu); url: (<http://www.aapss.org>).

The American Institute of Indian Studies invites applications from scholars from all disciplines who wish to conduct their research in India. Junior fellowships are given to doctoral candidates to conduct research for their dissertations in India for up to eleven months. Senior long-term (six to nine months) and short-term (four months or less) fellowships are available for scholars who hold the Ph.D. degree. Scholarly/Professional development fellowships are available to scholars and professionals who have not previously worked in India. Eligible applicants include 1) U.S. citizens; and 2) citizens of other countries who are students or faculty members at U.S. colleges and universities (this rule does not apply to U.S. citizens). For applications please contact the American Institute of Indian Studies, 1130 E. 59th Street, Chicago, IL 60637; tel: 773-702-8638; e-mail: (aiis@uchicago.edu); website: (www.indiastudies.org). Application deadline is July 1, 2004.

Call for papers. The 2004 meetings of the New York State Economics Association will be held at Ithaca College in Ithaca, New York, October 15–16, 2004. Papers on all topics in economics, business and related social sciences are welcome. Student papers, both graduate and undergraduate, are welcome as well. For more information, including registration forms and submission guidelines, visit the NYSEA website at (<http://www.nysea.org>), or contact Elia Kacapyr, Department of Economics, Ithaca College, Ithaca, New York; e-mail: (kacapyr@ithaca.edu).

Call for papers. The Euro-American Association of Economic Development Studies welcomes proposals of articles for its journals Applied Econometrics and International Development, and Regional and Sectoral Economic Studies. These journals select articles with main emphasis on Applied Economics and with quantitative contents. Comparisons among different countries or regions are specially interesting. Both journals occupy top positions at international level by the number of downloads per item. More information and some free downloadable articles at our website: (<http://www.usc.es/economet/ea.htm>).

Call for papers. The National Business and Economics Society announces a call for papers for our March 10–13, 2005, conference in Key West, Florida. The National Business and Economics Society is a multidisciplinary academic association that focuses on promoting interdisciplinary research of both a theoretical and practical nature. See our website at (www.nbesonline.com). Submission requirement: One page abstract of the research paper in Word e-mailed to (info@nbesonline.com). Submission deadline is July 1, 2004.
