“Moral Hazard and Claims Deterrence in Private Disability Insurance”

Author: Mark G. Duggan

I received financial support ($5,000) for this research from the Dean’s Research Fund at my employer, the Wharton School. I did not receive funding from any other source for this project. I also have received funding for other disability insurance projects (not this one) from the Social Security Administration and for health insurance projects (not this one) from the National Science Foundation. During the past three years I have received compensation of more than $10k from the American Economic Association and the Hamilton Project. I currently serve as the Faculty Director of the Penn Wharton Public Policy Initiative at the University of Pennsylvania and the Wharton School.

No party had the right to review the paper prior to circulation. The private disability insurer that provided the data for the project also provided feedback and suggestions on the paper draft.
