

Disclosure Statement of Leslie M. Marx

Co-author of “Antitrust Leniency with Multi-Product Colluders”

1. Marx received no financial support for the research other than an academic salary from Duke University that was associated with her position as a Professor of Economics at the Fuqua School of Business at Duke University.
2. Marx has not received significant financial support, summing to at least $10,000 in the past three years, in the form of consultant fees, retainers, grants and the like, from any interested parties.
3. Marx has no paid or unpaid positions as an officer, director, or board member of any relevant non-profit organization or profit-making entity. Marx is a partner in the economic consulting firm of Bates White, LLC; however, this entity is not “relevant” in the sense of having any policy positions, goals, or financial interests that relate to the article.
4. Marx has no disclosures for any close relative or partner related to the issues in 1-3 above.
5. No other party had the right to review the paper prior to its circulation.