

Disclosure Statement from Mireille Jacobson

AEJ-Policy submission "The Effects of Medicare on Medical Expenditure Risk and Financial Strain"

The author declares that she has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research project.

This work was funded by the National Institute on Aging (NIA R21-AG044737), the Commonwealth Fund's Affordable Health Insurance Program, RAND's Center for the Study of Aging (NIA P30 AG012815), USC's Resource Center for Minority Aging Research (NIA P30AG043073) and USC's Roybal Center for Financial Decision Making (NIA P30AG024962).

Work for the project was approved by the Human Subjects Protection Committee (HSPC) at the RAND Corporation, where this work was started. I worked full time at RAND until July 19, 2013 and remain an adjunct staff member there. RAND's human subjects approval is good through September 12, 2014, at which time I can apply for continued approval.
