

Why Are Power Plants in India Less Efficient Than Power Plants in the United States?

Disclosure Statement – Kabir Malik

Sources of financial support for this research: None

Sources of financial support over the past 3 years: The author declares that he has received financial support from the World Bank as a short-term consultant.

Rights to review the paper prior to submission: The author declares that no party has had the right to review this manuscript prior to submission.

IRB Approval: No IRB approval was required for this paper. The paper analyzes publicly available data and does not involve human subjects.