

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

We did not seek IRB approval for this project since the underlying data are existing data that were given to us in a manner that would not allow us to identify individuals.

David Card,
UC Berkeley,
January 7, 2015.