

Sabrina T. Howell

October 30, 2016

Disclosure Statement

MS AER-2015-0808

The author declares that she has no relevant material financial interests that relate to the paper entitled “Financing Innovation: Evidence from R&D Grants.”

The author was able to use the U.S. Department of Energy’s (DOE) proprietary, non-public data only in her capacity as an unpaid DOE intern. This data cannot be shared with any other party. She is providing summaries of her findings for internal DOE use.

However, the author has received no payment from DOE, nor does DOE have the right to review her work prior to publication. This project received direct funding from the Harvard Lab for Economic Applications and Policy ($1,500). It was also indirectly funded by a NSF Graduate Research Fellowship.