

Disclosure Statement: Troy D. Smith

Manuscript: Quantifying the Supply Response of Private Schools to Public Policies

Financial support for this research was provided by the Stanford Institute for Economic Policy Research through the Shultz Graduate Student Fellowship and the Bradley Graduate and Post Graduate Fellowship Program. Financial support for concurrent, but unrelated, research was provided by the National Science Foundation, the Stanford Institute for Innovation in Developing Countries, the National Institute of Justice, the American Arbitration Association, and the Kauffman Foundation.

Data for the research comes from public sources or was provided by the New York City Department of Education (DOE). The DOE data are confidential. However, the NYC DOE has a formal application process that grants access to researchers with bona fide research proposals. The DOE has the option to review the research for disclosure of identifying information.
