

Disclosure Statement for the paper “Poor Performance as a Predictable Outcome: Financing the Administration of Unemployment Insurance”

Name: Stephen A. Woodbury

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper. Our use of the data for this submission and the research based on them are consistent with the policies and procedures of the W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, Princeton University, Michigan State University, and the organizations and agencies from which the data were obtained.

Stephen A. Woodbury