

Disclosure Statement

Patricia Beeson is provost emeritus at the University of Pittsburgh and the University provided financial support for her research in general. The University did not request, direct, or review the research that resulted in the article "Matching Pell Grants: Implications for College Debt and Parental Transfers." Institutional Review Board approval was received for this study.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Patricia E. Beeson". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Patricia" being more prominent than the last name "Beeson".

Patricia Beeson

University of Pittsburgh