

Disclosure Statement for “The Impact of COVID-19 on Workers’ Expectations and Preferences for Remote Work”

Gizem Kosar

Research Economist

Federal Reserve Bank of New York

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

This research was supported by the Russell Sage Foundation (grant number 2008-27610).

Our project received an IRB exemption by Boston University.