

Joshua D. Rauh

Disclosure Statement

Manuscript Title: Behavioral Responses to State Income Taxation of High Earners: Evidence from California

Manuscript ID: AEJPol-2020-0500.R2

- 1.) Sources of Financial Support: This work was supported in part by a grant from the Laura and John Arnold Foundation, from which we gratefully acknowledge support (references 130402FX and SPO 130402).
- 2.) Interested Parties from which I received significant financial support (consultant fees, retainers, grants, etc): none
- 3.) Positions as officer, director, or board member of non-institutions or profit-making entities: I served in the capacity of Director of Research at the Hoover Institution from January 2018-October 2019, during a time when I was working on this paper. During the period November 2019-March 2020, I served as Principal Chief Economist at the Council of Economic Advisers at the US Office of the President, but I did not do any significant work on the paper during this time.
- 4.) Disclosures pertaining to close relatives or partners: none
- 5.) Review rights: The California Franchise Tax Board (FTB) as provider of the data reviewed the paper before its initial posting and circulation to ensure confidentiality had been maintained.