

“The Great Recession and the Widening Income Gap Between Alumni of Elite and Less Selective Universities”

Russell Weinstein

I have not received significant financial support, in the form of consultant fees, grants, retainers, and the like, or in-kind support, from parties with financial, political, or ideological stakes in this research. I do not serve in any paid or unpaid position with an organization whose positions, goals, or financial interests relate to this research, with the exception that I am employed by a university. No other party had the right to review the paper prior to its circulation. I did not obtain IRB approval for this project as I do not use any individual-level data.
