

WHAT DO WE LEARN?

Posted by Robert Kaestner

Posted on 8/18/2016 4:44 PM

What do we learn about the association between air pollution and labor productivity from 158, temporary pear pickers at one plant in Northern California who worked on average 46 days on the 2% (or 5 not counting days of extreme pollution due to fire) of the 214 days (5) when air pollution is high [PM₂₀₋₂₅]? My answer is little.