

DATA SETS

Posted by DANLEY B. WOLFE

Posted on 2/3/2020 3:27 PM

footnote at bottom of page 1 says datasets are available at the link. I went to the link... they are noty there. Specifically I looked at Figure 1 and said ... in re to pollutants such as CO, NO₂, ozone, particulates PM_{2.5} zero is usually the preferred reference point. The authors chose in the figure to center the correlation in the figure perhaps for aesthetic reasons. Showing zero would have been more useful to readerss of the paper.