

April 27, 2022

Subj: Disclosures

To the Editors of the American Economic Journal: Economic Policy,

We are pleased to submit for your consideration the manuscript, Should College Be "Free"? Evidence on Free College, Early Commitments, and Merit Aid from an Eight-Year Randomized Trial. Below is my disclosure statement:

- As noted in the manuscript acknowledgements, this evaluation was funded by the USDOE, Institute of Education Sciences (IES), as well as a foundation that wishes to remain anonymous in public settings, but which we can disclose here, for purposes of review, as being the Smith Richardson Foundation.
- Neither I nor any relative has received funds from any interested parties or relevant organizations over the past three years.
- This article has no right of review by another other party.

Sincerely,

Jonathan N. Mills, Ph.D.
Research Scientist
The Coleridge Initiative
Email: jon.mills@coleridgeinitiative.org