

Disclosure statement for
Agency Pricing and Bargaining: Evidence from the E-Book Market

The paper was conceived while at Indiana University and Clemson University. I joined Amazon, Inc. as a senior economist in January 2020. Amazon did not provide any information, proprietary data, or financial support for the paper. The paper was subject to and approved by Amazon's internal publication review process, but its approval does not constitute an endorsement or validation of the results or conclusions of the paper.

The NET Institute provided financial support.

Babur De los Santos
Clemson University