

Disclosure Statement

- I received support for this paper from the Georgetown Environmental Initiative, in the form of payments to research assistants.
- Data were received from the California Energy Commission. No other interested party has provided support, financial or otherwise.
- I have received no financial support from interested parties.
- I have no paid or unpaid positions with relevant organizations.
- No other party has had the right to review this prior to circulation.