Re: Disclosure Statement

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper: The Expanding Gender Earnings Gap: Evidence from the LEHD-2000 Census by Goldin, Kerr, Olivetti, and Barth.

The project did not require an IRB, as it only utilized secondary data where all individuals were de-identified by Census Bureau and did not involve actual human subjects.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'E. Barth', with a stylized flourish extending from the end.
