

Disclosure statement for paper “Using Online Prices for Measuring Real Consumption Across Countries”

This research received financial support through a Digging into Data grant of the Trans-Atlantic Platform, entitled “Online Prices for Computing Standards Of Living across Countries (OPSLAC)”, from the National Science Foundation (US), Social Science and Humanities Research Council (Canada), and Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research (NWO). This information is included in the acknowledgements listed in the paper. This financial support did not come with a non-disclosure obligation. It also did not involve a right for anyone to preview the data or paper before it was being circulated.

From January 1, 1992 to June 30, 2016, Robert Feenstra was the Director of the International Trade and Investment research program at the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Robert C. Feenstra

January 11, 2018