

Fourth Women in Central Banking Workshop

Call for papers

Banco de México, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, Norges Bank, and Banca d'Italia are organizing the Fourth Women in Central Banking Workshop to be held in Mexico City on the 6th and 7th of November 2026. The workshop provides a platform for female PhD and post-doctoral students working on topics relevant to central banks, broadly defined, to present their research and receive feedback.

Ayşegül Şahin (Professor of Economics and Public Affairs at Princeton University and former vice president at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York) will give the keynote lecture.

We encourage female PhD and post-doctoral students, especially those who are close to the end of their studies, to submit their work. Submissions in all areas of economics and finance, but especially macroeconomics, labor economics, inequality, inflation and monetary economics, banking and financial intermediation, international economics and international finance, are welcome. Papers selected to be included in the workshop program will be assigned a discussant.

Full papers should be submitted to wicb2026@banxico.org.mx by July 3, 2026. Authors of accepted papers will be notified by mid-August. The same email address can be used to send inquiries and request clarifications. At the time of submission, all applicants are also kindly asked to fill out the survey available here. The data collected will be used by the organizing institutions to evaluate the impact of this and other similar outreach initiatives.

The workshop will be in person and take place at Banco de México's research department in Mexico City. Banco de México will cover travel and accommodation costs for all presenters, subject to a cap.
