Terms and Conditions of Use

AEA's online journals and their content are AEA copyright or are made available under license and are subject to all applicable copyright, database protection and other rights of copyright owners and publishers under the laws of USA and other countries. Authorized Users shall claim no ownership by reason of their use of or access to the Service. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

Authorized users are permitted online access to all seven journals published by the American Economic Association from 1999 forward as long as their subscription is valid. When the subscription expires, all online access expires as well.

Authorized users are employees, faculty, staff and students who are officially affiliated with the subscribing institution, individual members of the AEA who are accessing the online version through the password protected e-journal websites on www.aeaweb.org, and other users who have paid for access through the pay per view facility. Public access may also be provided from designated terminals within the subscribing institution's IP range. Authorized Users may include persons affiliated with remote sites or campuses of the subscribing institution within a six mile radius or other affiliated sites specifically approved by the AEA.

The subscribing institution is responsible for notifying and updating its IP address and proxy server details within that IP address in order that its authorized users may have access to the journals it subscribes to, and will use its best efforts to prevent unauthorized use, including making all reasonable efforts to inform authorized users of these guidelines.

Permission to make digital or hard copies of part or all of American Economic Association publications for personal or classroom use is granted without fee, provided that copies are not distributed for profit or direct commercial advantage and that copies show the notice of copyright on the first page or initial screen of a display along with the full citation, including the name of the author. Copyrights for components of this work owned by others than AEA must be honored. Abstracting with credit is permitted. The author has the right to republish, post on servers, redistribute to lists and use any component of this work in other works. For others to do so requires prior specific permission and/or a fee. Permissions may be requested from the American Economic Association Business Office.

Authorized users may not alter, recompile, resell, redistribute, publish or re-publish, systematically download, operate a bureau service or print for fee service for distribution to unauthorized users the journal content or any part thereof without explicit permission from the copyright holder.
