

The Violent Legacy of Victimization: Post-Conflict Evidence on Asylum Seekers, Crimes and Public Policy in Switzerland

- Mathieu Couttenier has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.
Mathieu Couttenier acknowledges financial support from the ERC Starting Grant GRIEVANCES-313327.
Mathieu Couttenier acknowledges funding from the SNF-grant ``New Tools to Prevent Civil Conflicts in Sub-Saharan Africa: Empirical Evidence and Policy Implications"
Mathieu Couttenier acknowledges funding from the IDEXLYON from the University of Lyon (French National Research Agency, ``Programme Investissements d'Avenir" ANR-16-IDEX-0005),

- Veronica Petrencu has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper.
Veronica Petrencu acknowledges funding from the NCCR-On the Move for the IP-9 Project "Labor Market Effects and the Political Economy of "New" Migration to Switzerland" and the Swiss Network for International Studies "Individual-Level Attitudes towards Immigrants over Time and across Contexts"

- Dominic Rohner has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.
Dominic Rohner acknowledges financial support from the SNF-grant "The Economics of Ethnic Conflict" (100017-150159 / 1).

- Mathias Thoenig has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.
Mathias Thoenig acknowledges financial support from the ERC Starting Grant GRIEVANCES-313327.

