

Disclosure Statement

Paper Title: “Household Labor Supply and the Value of Social Security Survivors Benefits”

Author’s Name: David Coyne

The research described in the paper entitled “Household Labor Supply and the Value of Social Security Survivors Benefits” was supported by the U.S. Social Security Administration through grant #RRC08098400-09 to the National Bureau of Economic Research as part of the SSA Retirement Research Consortium. I hereby declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper since the grant included investigator salary for the co-authors Itzik Fadlon and Patricia K. Tong only.

The use of the data has been approved by the Office of Tax Analysis.

Both the Social Security Administration and the Office of Tax Analysis reviewed the paper before its circulation.

Sincerely,

David Coyne