

Disclosure statement for “Statistical Non-Significance in Empirical Economics,” accepted for publication at AER:Insights

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this article.

The article did not involve collection of data on human subjects, so no IRB approval was required.

Alberto Abadie