RE: "Hidden Baggage: Behavioral Responses to Changes in Airline Ticket Tax Disclosure"

To whom it may concern;

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. I received financial support from the Federal Reserve Board of Governors for purposes of data acquisition (where I was employed at the time.)

Request for data availability exemption:

The statistical analyses presented in this paper rely upon restricted-use airline ticket data compiled by the Bureau of Transportation Statistics, U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT). All results were reviewed by the DOT to ensure data confidentiality. The DOT did not in any way influence the research question, tests, or conclusions presented herein. We are unable to provide this data to other researchers but anyone can purchase it. We will provide Stata .do files that will enable anyone to replicate our data sample and analysis.

Sincerely,

Naomi Feldman
