

Disclosure statement of Jonathan Wright:

Facts and Challenges from the Great Recession for Forecasting and Macroeconomic Modeling

I did not receive any financial support for this paper. I am a professor at Johns Hopkins University and a consultant for the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. I have no other financial interests to report. There is no conflict of interest and no other party has the right to our paper.