

"Jon Elster's Securities Against Misrule: A Review Essay" by David Austen-Smith

I have no conflicts of interest in regard to the essay named herein.

Signed:

David Austen-Smith February 3rd 2015

David Austen-Smith

Copyright Transfer Agreement

From: The American Economic Association
Journal of Economic Literature

To: David Austen-Smith

The American Economic Association (hereinafter Association) is pleased to have the opportunity to publish the Manuscript (as that term is defined below) in the Journal of Economic Literature (the "Journal"). In order that the Association, as Publisher, may obtain copyright protection for the contents of the Journal, it is necessary for the Author(s), or in the case of a "work for hire," the Author's Employer (referred to in this Agreement as "Author(s)/Employer") to execute this formal transfer of your copyrights in this Manuscript to the Association.

Author(s)/Employer has (have) delivered or will deliver in the time agreed between Author(s)/Employer and the Association a manuscript entitled

Jon Elster's Securities Against Misrule: Juries, Assemblies, Elections: A Review Essay and any related appendices or other documentation collectively, the "Manuscript". The Association agrees to publish the Manuscript in the Journal of Economic Literature (JEL) and the related appendices or other documentation provided therewith on its website at www.aeaweb.org/aea\_journals.

Consent to Publish

In consideration of the publication by the Association of the Manuscript, the undersigned as Author(s)/Employer transfer(s) and assign(s) exclusively to the Association all right, title and interest in and to the Manuscript, the United States and worldwide copyright(s) therein, and any and all renewals or extensions thereof, and any and all other rights that Author(s) now has (have) or to which the Association may become entitled under existing or subsequently enacted federal, state or foreign laws, including, without limitation, the right to license and/or obtain copyright protection for the Manuscript throughout the world. If it should become necessary, the Author(s)/Employer agree(s) to execute any documents deemed necessary by the Association to assist the Association in registering the copyright in the Manuscript in the name of the Association.

The Association, in turn, grants to the Author(s)/Employer the right to republication in any work in any form, including digital repositories in universities and other institutions subject only to giving proper credit of copyright. The Association further grants to the Author(s) the right to distribute the above-noted work in any classroom in which the Author is a teacher, subject only to the Author(s) giving proper credit in any such derivative work and on any copies distributed for classroom use. Proper notice may be given as follows: [Copyright American Economic Association; reproduced with permission of the Journal of Economic Literature].

Permission to Reprint Policy

The Author(s)/Employer may specify the degree of access to which the Association grants others the right to reproduce the above named Manuscript and related appendices. Check one:

- Implicit consent: Grants anyone permission to reprint in all places in all forms provided that the appropriate copyright information is included and the Association is notified that the work is being reprinted.
- Explicit consent: Requires direct consent of the Author(s) and the Association before any republication is allowed. The republisher must obtain from the Author(s)/Employer permission to reprint all or any major portion of the Author(s)/Employer's Manuscript.

Author(s) may charge a fee for reprint or translation rights. Rights to translate are retained by the Author(s) and dealt with on a case by case basis.

Warranty of Authorship

The Author(s)/Employer warrant(s) that the Manuscript is original work and has not been published previously, in whole or in part. If any material included by the Author(s)/Employer in the Manuscript (including tables, charts, or figures) is the work of another author or is otherwise under prior copyright protection by another proprietor, the Author(s) undertake(s) to obtain permission from that copyright proprietor for the inclusion of such material in the Manuscript to be published by the Association. The Author(s)/Employer further agree(s) to save and hold the Association harmless in any suit for infringement arising from the Author(s)/Employer's unauthorized use of copyrighted material. The Author(s)/Employer agree(s) to submit to the Editor of the Journal of the Association to whom the Manuscript has been submitted, copies of all letters of permission to include copyrighted material of another author included in the Manuscript that is under prior copyright protection by another proprietor.

The Author(s)/Employer further warrant(s) that this Manuscript was not written as part of the Author's official duties as an employee(s) of the United States government. Since copyright protection is not available for a work of the United States government, the Author(s)/Employer agree(s) to disclose fully to the Association the circumstances of federal employment which might invoke this bar to copyright protection of the Manuscript.

Please sign and date this agreement. Return one copy to the JEL editorial office promptly and retain one copy.
A manuscript for which there is no valid copyright transfer agreement cannot be published.

Author-owned manuscripts: David Austen-Smith Date: Feb 3rd 2015
Author(s)

Work-for-hire manuscripts: _____ Date: _____
Signature of author(s) of the above named manuscript acknowledges the transfer of copyright from the employer to the American Economic Association as designated below.

_____
Date: _____
Signature of the employer of the above named Work-for-hire transfers copyright to the American Economic Association.

U.S. government employees please sign here: _____ Date: _____

For the American Economic Association and the Journal of Economic Literature:
_____
Date: _____