

My disclosure statement follows:

During the past three years I have received research funding from the European Commission in addition to being employed by the London School of Economics and by Statistics Norway. I am currently President of the LIS Cross-National Data Center and of the Human Development and Capability Association.

Best wishes

Tony Atkinson