

Disclosure statement

With reference to the paper “Net neutrality: an economic (re)view,” submitted to the Journal of Economic Perspectives for publication, I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. I served on the Open Internet Advisory Committee in 2013, and in 2014-2015 as special economic consultant to the Federal Communications Commission in the Comcast/TWC merger. This is acknowledged in the paper.

Sincerely,
Shane Greenstein