

EconLitTM
AMERICAN ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION

A Gateway to Excellence in Economics

Includes over 1.9 million records, covering economics literature published over the last 135 years by leading institutions in 75 countries.

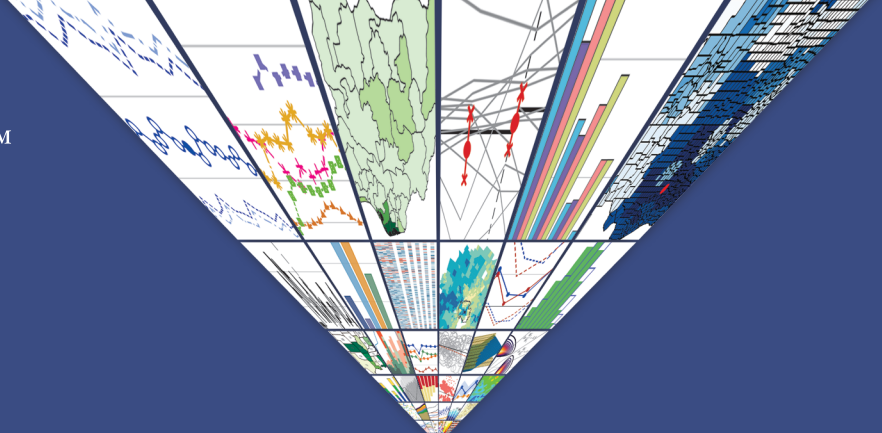

- Peer-Reviewed Journal Articles
- Working Papers
- PhD Dissertations
- Books and Book Reviews
- Collective Volume Articles

Contact us at info@econlit.org for a custom quote or a trial subscription.

EconLitTM
AMERICAN ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION

info@econlit.org | www.econlit.org

The essential reference tool for economics research

EconLitTM records are classified by professional taxonomists, using the internationally recognized subject classifications developed by the American Economic Association.

This specialized, controlled vocabulary supports precise discoverability and the diverse needs of scholars in academia, government, and business.

Comprehensive and Up-to-Date

Academic libraries and leading institutions around the world subscribe to EconLitTM.

- ▶ All areas of economics and many related disciplines
- ▶ Coverage back to 1886
- ▶ Over 70,000 additions per year
- ▶ Journals in over 30 languages
- ▶ Full-text option available

For a complete list of indexed journals, record samples, search hints, and a guide to JEL/EconLit classification codes, please visit www.econlit.org.

EconLitTM Subscriptions

All providers offer the capability of linking *EconLit*TM records to full-text library holdings. In combination with the optional full-text package of over 500 journals, including the prestigious AEA journals, *EconLit*TM provides a comprehensive library of economics literature.

Contact us at info@econlit.org or ask any of our providers for a custom quote or a trial subscription.

sales@proquest.com
www.proquest.com

dailog.support@clarivate.com dialog.com/commercial-databases

Wolters Kluwer | Ovid

support@ovid.com
www.ovid.com

www.ebsco.com/contact www.ebsco.com