EDUCATE Workshop

EXPANDING DIVERSITY in UNDERGRADUATE CLASSES with ADVANCEMENTS in (the) TEACHING (of) ECONOMICS

Overview

This workshop provides opportunities for instructors of introductory courses to take part in course design activities and experience pedagogical strategies that will engage all of the students they teach. Attendees will have opportunities to identify learning objectives that focus on the students' ability to "do economics" and to participate in pedagogical practices that enable students to be active participants in economic analysis.

All accepted applicants are expected to fully engage with each of the three phases of the overall program including constructing learning objectives, studying pedagogical practices that are collaborative and inclusive including cooperative learning, engaging lectures, data integration, and classroom experiments, and integrating lessons learned into their own courses. Participants will be provided opportunities to share their work at the 2022 CTREE and ASSA meetings.

Participants will engage with issues of diversity and inclusion throughout the workshop including opportunities to think critically about course goals and learning outcomes, their relationship to pedagogical choices and assessment, and how such decisions might have disparate effects on those of different races, genders, and ethnicities.

Eligibility

Applicants must be scheduled to teach introductory microeconomics, macroeconomics, or a combined course in the spring of 2021 and also plan on teaching one of these courses in the fall of 2021. Preference will be given to those less than 6 years since PhD. To meet the goals of increasing diversity in the profession, the first EDUCATE cohort will be chosen to represent a diverse set of institutions and instructors.

Cost

Accepted applicants must make an electronic payment of $100 to confirm their spot in the workshop. Those who complete and submit a final post-workshop implementation plan (summer 2021) will be provided a $500 stipend.

The application portal is open now, with a rolling acceptance procedure starting on October 1, 2020 and continuing until all workshop slots are filled. Workshop details and the application portal are available at <https://www.aeaweb.org/go/educate-workshop>.
